MANY ACCIDENTS

Chatham, Ill., two and Aberdeen, S. D., two. No other town or city in the country gave up more than one of its own to the death list.

The total number of injured, 2153, is under last year's figures which were 2789.

The figures show that this year, as last, the most of the casualties were due to carelessness in handling fire-crackers and other forms of "harmless explosives."

Victims of gunpowder this year stand second in number, but show a marked decrease from last year's figures.

The crusade against the deadly toy pistol seems to be bearing fruit, as this year only 205 victims are reported as against 304 last year.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 5.—Pittsburg has broken all records for Independence Day casualties. Without any serious accident, in which a number of persons might have been involved, up to six o'clock this morning, five persons have died and two score more are seriously hurt, many of them fatally. This list includes but first reports. Later returns are expected to show a number of deaths from tetanus.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. July 5.—During the Fourth of July celebration here, twenty six persons sustained injuries sufficiently serious to require surgical attention. Of these but one is regarded as fatal that of Eugene Cline, the boy who was injured yesterday by the ignition of an explosive in his pocket.

CUSTOM'S REPORTS.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The reports of the custom authorities for the fiscal year ended June 30, shows a gain in the valuation of the imports of precious stones at New York, the total for 12 months approximating $41,000,000. The importers say that nearly seven-eighths of this was diamonds.

The United States has been buying in recent years about 60 per cent of all diamonds mined in South Africa.

GOING HOME.

New Chinese Minister Of Foreign Affairs Regrets Leaving America.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the new Chinese minister of foreign affairs and retiring minister from the celestial kingdom to the United States, spent one hour here yesterday on his way home to assume the new office and honors that have come to him. At the station Sir Chentung was met by a delegation of Chinese merchants who were most graciously received. Sir Chentung wishes to make all speed possible and reach San Francisco in time to take a steamer leaving there July 9.

"I regret my departure from the United States," said the distinguished oriental statesman, "and I carry to my land many pleasing remembrances. However, when ones country calls him, one should have no other idea than obedience. The affairs of my country in America will be cared for by the secretary of the legation at Washington until such time as my successor arrives."

"Will the open door policy be maintained in China?" the minister was asked.

"Most assuredly," he replied. "That is as much of more advantage to China than to any nation with whom she trades."

TUG FOUNDERED.

HAMBURG, July 5.—Advices received here report that the tug Sao Bonito, built in Hamburg for the Hamburg-South American steamship company's Amazon service, foundered in the Bay of Biscay while in tow for Brazil. The captain and six men aboard the tug were drowned.

THREE BODIES FOUND YESTERDAY

ALL THREE BODIES OF THE MEN DROWNED TEN DAYS AGO RECOVERED THE SAME DAY—NO ARRANGEMENTS FOR DISPOSAL.

Yesterday was remarkable for the coincidental finding of the bodies of the three men who were drowned up the river last week. It will be remembered that the Lurline lost a deck hand named H. Russell at Altoona and that John Axelsson fell off the wharf at the cold storage plant. The bodies of these two were both found at almost the same spot on the beach at Altoona. They were brought down last night on the launch Columbia and Coroner Pohl took charge. The other body found is almost undoubtedly that of Lawrence Peterson who was drowned at Skamokawa from the steamer Hassalo. It was recovered in Gray's Bay where it was floating in the water. Coroner Pohl was notified of it yesterday afternoon and took a launch over to bring the body back. No arrangements have as yet been made for the disposal of the bodies.

THE HAYWOOD TRIAL

customed and without which there was danger of sickness. Juror Sebern addressed the court in a similar strain. Court and counsel agree to arrange anything within the law for the improvement of conditions.

Juror Burns complained that the bailiffs were too strict in the enforcement of trivial rules, whereupon Juror Robertson, a good-humored Scotchman, defended the bailiffs, laughingly saying: "Well, I don't know about it being too strict. I know I never had a better time in my life."

This announcement was greeted by roars of merriment even the court participating.

Five witnesses on the stand this morning added support to those who preceded them, testifying as to the conditions existing in Colorado and showing no reason for calling the militia. Orchard was further discredited by Owen Barns, a miner who lived near the Independence mine and who Orchard said assisted him in making bombs. Barns knew Orchard, Adams, Easterly and others, and denied that he ever planned or discussed any criminal expedition with Orchard.

J. Wolf, financial clerk for Pettibone and who closed up Pettibone's business after he was arrested proved a strong witness for the defense in its contradiction of Orchard's story. Orchard testified that when he was in San Francisco on the Bradley killing expedition he sent to Pettibone for money and received a registered letter containing five $20 bills and which was signed "J. Wolf" and State intimated that this was the name under which Pettibone passed. Witness swore he sent no money but had sent a registered letter to Orchard as "Jack Dempsey" addressed to him at San Francisco. This letter, Wolf swore, contained a Masonic charm and a union card left with Pettibone and for which it had been testified he wrote for after his arrival in San Francisco.

IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE.

It makes all the difference in the world to the convivial man where, and what, he drinks. Most men desire beauty and cleanliness, and handsome appointments in the saloon they patronize regularly, as well as the essential pre-requisite of genuine wines and liquors that are served to them. And these things are so particularly and properly conspicuous at Otto Sund's elegant resort, the Commercial, at No. 509 on the street of that name that they account thoroughly for the fixed and splendid custom he enjoys. There is nothing allowed to pass his counter but the best and choicest in every department of indulgence, and the service behind it all, is the most pleasing and satisfying in the city.

During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure.
